PLAYFELLOW SECOND TO HIS STABLEMATE VICTOR OVER YALE

Colt Which Cost $115,000 Breezes Home Behind Knobbie in the Carlton.

HELD UNDER RESTRAINT

Sweep By Beats Big Field of Juveniles in Hudson—Broomspun Destroyed.

By HENRY V. KING. Knobbie and Playfellow, the two three-year-old colts the Rancocas Stable bought from Jim Fitzsimmons last week for $140,000, finished first and second yesterday afternoon in the Carlton Stakes, the feature of the programme at the Aqueduct track. Knobbie, which cost $25,000, led home Playfellow, the $115,000 brother of Man o' War, by four lengths. The race did not prove that Knobbie was the better colt. Sam Hildreth declared to win with Knobbie, and Playfellow had nothing more than an exercise gallop. In fact, he didn't have that, for jockey Fator held him under restraint from start to finish. The pair outclassed their opponents and at the end of the one mile journey, Walter Salmon's Careful, which led the remainder of the field, was staggering from fatigue half a dozen lengths behind Playfellow. Without giving his best Knobbie covered the one mile route in 1:38 1-5. After the race it was the opinion of all horsemen that Playfellow would have galloped home in much faster time if he had been allowed to run. Confident Knobbie would win, Hildreth instructed Fator to place Playfellow and allow him to run in the homestretch. If any horse threatened Knobbie, it was the first time the big brother of Man o' War had been placed and he didn't seem to relish it. Entering the homestretch Fator gave him little free rein and in a few jumps he was in second place. With only Knobbie in front of him, Fator took another grip on the reins and allowed him to breeze home in second place. Hildreth was pleased with the work of both colts and said he believed Playfellow would be the undisputed champion before the end of the year.

Big Colt a Magnet. Because of the price he brought, Playfellow acted as a magnet and brought a big crowd to the track to see him groomed. While being taken off the track on his way from the receiving stable a fly bothered him and he lunged out with his hind feet with terrific force. John Fitzsimmons, a son of the veteran trainer who developed and sold him, was right behind him at the time and narrowly escaped being seriously injured. He leaped back, the kick started his way, but his friend who was near received a touch of it on the wrist. It was the first time the colt had ever kicked any one and was a big surprise to his former stable hands. Always he had been as gentle as a lamb and would rather play than kick.

When Knobbie and Playfellow came bounding down the homestretch far in front of their opponents the crowd, which numbered more than 30,000, gave them a great ovation. But these cheers soon turned to moans. As they were galloping past the judges, Broomspun, the fine bay colt belonging to Harry Payne Whitney, which won the rich Preakness, was hobbling about on three legs on the other side of the track. He had been kicked at the post by Ed Nash's Benington and had the bone in his right shoulder broken. Despite the terrible pain from this injury the courageous thoroughbred struggled on for a quarter of a mile. Then he succumbed and Jockey Kummer dismounted. The poor fellow's foot was dangling in the air and Jimmy Rowe, his trainer, ordered him destroyed immediately.

Mr. Whitney was at the course for the first time in several weeks and was despondent over the loss of his good colt. The race wasn't much of a contest. Knobbie darted to the front as soon as the barrier went up. Gifford A. Cochran's Smoke Screen and Careful followed him two lengths back all the way down the stretch, while Playfellow ran in fifth position under a stout pull. Rounding the turn Knobbie increased his lead and entered the pole in a few lengths in front. Then, when Smoke Screen and Careful began to stagger, Playfellow came bounding along and made them look as if they were standing still while Knobbie romped home to an easy victory.

Sweep By a Fast Colt. Mrs. A. R. Lawson's Sweep By, a brown son of Sweep, beat home a big field of juveniles in the Hudson Stakes. He ran like a high class colt and was not doing his best at the end to earn the major portion of the $5,000 purse. J. S. Cadden's Big Heart finished second and he was standing still while Knobbie romped home to an easy victory.

New Jersey Tennis Title for Vanderbilt D. Ward Vanderbilt D. Ward won the New Jersey tennis championship yesterday on the Montclair Athletic Club courts as the result of a victory over Edward Oelner of the home club. Ward, who had beaten his opponent once before this season—in the fifth round of the Brooklyn tennis championship—triumphed in straight sets, but that does not begin to tell the story of the match, for every set was hotly contested and the winner's margin was small in all but the third division of play. The score was 6-4, 10-8, 6-2. In the long run it was Ward's superior steadiness, coupled by slightly better generalship, that won for him. Oelner's speed and bouncesome chop stroke kept Ward going at top speed to hold his advantage in each set.

FIELD OF 128 IN "MET" TITLE TENNIS

Two Former Champions Among Aspirants—Washington Winner.

Two former title holders, S. Howard Voshell and Watson M. Washburn, were among the 128 racket wielders drawn for the annual metropolitan clay court championship, which opened at New York Tennis Club yesterday. Each has two legs on the trophy that has been in competition many years and another victory for either will win the cup permanently. Their task promises to be no small one, however, for among other contenders who are considered just as strong, if not stronger, are Vincent Richards, who has been playing the best tennis of his career this season, and Frank T. Anderson, the national indoor tennis champion. The draw has been a fortunate one in that each quarter contains the name of one of the four leading contenders, with Voshell and Washburn in one half and Anderson and Richards in the other, and only an upset can prevent any of the quartet named reaching the semifinals. Since upsets have been quite the fashion in local tennis this season, many of the other contestants are not giving up hope of breaking through to the semifinals.

Voshell, Richards and Anderson will not get into action until to-day, but Washburn played his first match yesterday, defeating Edgar T. Appleby without any trouble at 6-1, 6-2. Washburn played well within himself, contenting himself as a rule with winning on his opponent's errors. These errors were induced by forcing shots that were splendidly judged as to distance and angles.

Among those who reached the third round were Charles Chambers, the former Brooklyn champion, who was in surprisingly good form. Chambers played four sets in two matches and did not drop a single game, his opponents being C. A. H. Smith and L. W. Taylor. Others who advanced just as far were Henry H. Bassford, L. A. Bodkin, Stephen V. Brubans and George G. Moore, Jr. Moore will be remembered as the Seventh Regiment Tennis Club player who furnished the upset of the season by defeating Frank T. Anderson in the first round of the Brooklyn championship a few weeks ago. His play was not so promising yesterday, for although he won two matches he was extended in both his matches by players he figured to beat rather comfortably.
